Keeping Our Places of Worship Safe

On Saturday, January 20, 2018 Turning Point United Methodist Church, located at 15 South Broad Street, in the heart of the city of Trenton, will be holding a faith-based security forum. The guest speaker will be Lt. John Paige of NJ Homeland Security. With the increase of terroristic acts and violence in faith based institutions it is vital that we are educated and informed of preventative measures to insure the safety of our parishioners. You are cordially invited to attend this very informative forum. There will also be a Q & A segment, along with resources to protect your houses of worship. We are living in different times where even our most sacred spaces can befall acts of violence. We urge you to attend this very informative forum so that you can better equip your house of worship with the tools needed to be a safe place to congregate. Looking forward to fellowshiping with you on this very vital matter.
